Two Hundred Palm Trees for the Arboretum

Bassett & Washburn Nursery Gives Trees Valued at $1000.00

Kentia Fostorias Will Be Set Out During the Planting Season Under Expert Supervision

Humphries Seeks Cooperation of University of Southern California in Making Canyon Survey

Two hundred palms of the Kentia Fostoria variety have been received by the Botanical Society of Sierra Madre, to be set out in the Arboretum. A value of $1000 is placed on the trees, which will not be set out until February when planting season is at its height.

The palms come from the largest specialized nursery in the world, the firm of Bassett and Washburn, located on East Central Avenue, where Ernest Bachman is in charge of the activities. The generous gift is a manifestation of the interest which the unusual botanical enterprise has awakened throughout the country.

Acceptance of the gift was made at a recent meeting of the Arboretum executive board at which time Dr. L. L. Krebs, W. R. Humphries, Walter Poehler, Mrs. S. E. Osgood and Oscar Seiling were present. At the same time a communication concerning further laying out of the canyon was received from Frank Shearer, superintendent of parks in Los Angeles city.

Mr. Shearer, like others on the consulting board, is enthusiastic over the possibilities of Bailey Canyon, which, with its water rights belongs to the city of Sierra Madre. In regard to the laying out of the palms, Mr. Shearer states that there are five or six different natural arrangements which might be followed, with splendid results. Through all of the arrangements runs the idea of a grouping of the trees to form a tropical garden spot.

Before any action is taken Mr. Shearer advises that a survey of the canyon be made, and Mr. Humphries is at present working on a plan whereby students of the engineering department at U.S.C. will do the work. Mr. Humphries recently visited Caltek in this connection, but was informed that at the present time there were no students sufficiently advanced to do the work. An offer to assist later in the year, when the men had more experience was made, but Mr. Humphries has taken the matter up with U. S. C. and it is expected that the survey will be made shortly.

There are two new memberships in the society, W. J. Hunsaker, who sent in a check for $50, and Marshall L. Murray, a $5 membership.

The possibilities of the canyon, with its natural beauty of rock, stream and plant life, have been recognized throughout the state, and Mrs. Arthur E. DeMott, president of the Woman's club of Glendora, has asked that some member of the Arboretum Society present the plans before the women at one of the luncheon meetings soon.

A vision of unique gardens, representative of various spots on the face of the globe, all combined without clashing in the gem of a canyon, has raised itself before the eyes of Sierra Madre residents, and the Arboretum, properly developed, should, before many years, bring much favorable attention to the community which has chosen to sponsor it.

Episcopal Church Mass to Be Read

A special musical service will be sung by the choir of the Church of the Ascension on Thanksgiving day at 9:30 a. m. and the rector will preach. There will be an earlier service without music at 7:30.

Death Calls Aged Resident Tuesday

Dr. Mary H. Upjohn, aged 78 years, passed away early this morning at her home at 71 East Alegria. She had been living in Sierra Madre since 1914. She graduated from the medical school in Ann Arbor, Mich., and practiced medicine in Omaha, Neb., for 25 years. Both she and her husband, the late Dr. William C. Upjohn, were prominent physicians there.

Although Dr. Upjohn had been an invalid for many years she made many friends and was loved and respected by all who knew her. Funeral services will be conducted at Long Beach and burial will be in Sunnyside Cemetery there. Arrangements will be announced when the one remaining relative, Chas. B. Hoagland, a brother, of Chatham, N. J. is heard from.

Boy's Club Is Proposed By Businessmen

Plan Under Way to Utilize Basement of New City Building

Movement toward a community club and recreation room for young men and boys of Sierra Madre is gathering momentum, and sponsored by the American Legion and chamber of commerce should become a whirlwind before the completion of the city hall on Christmas Day.

While this plan is just formulating, the general idea, being spoken of on street corners and in various stores wherever men gather to discuss the affairs of the town unofficially, is to utilize the basement of the new city hall for the young men.

The basement is large, and has at one end a wide fireplace. For a few hundred dollars the room could be turned into a modern and well equipped recreation room, which would solve the problem of long winter evenings, so far as the youth of the community is concerned.

The fire department has two pool tables and a billiard table, which could easily be repaired and used in the basement. There is room and plumbing for a shower, and punching bags, boxing gloves and other equipment would cost but little.

A series of entertainments, sponsored either by the city or by the American Legion could easily raise the money needed for the purposes, it has been stated by the sponsors of the movement. At the meeting of the American Legion last night, the matter was discussed.

The American Legion is negotiating with the city for the basement for post meetings, but is willing to co-operate with the young men who might use the room every night during the month except two.

At the present time there is no place for the boys to gather at night, except in private homes, and as a result there is always a large crowd in front of the city hall, or wandering aimlessly about the streets, looking for something with which to occupy time.

Council to Hear Protests on New Churchill Road

Protestants, representing practically all of the property through which the proposed Churchill road would run, will appear before the city council, sitting as a whole this evening to consider the case.

Several months ago the city was asked to open Churchill to provide an outlet for residents in the canyon to the east, and at that time a strong protest was entered. The protests have been duly filed and property owners will be heard on the matter this evening.

New Leaders Appointed At Unit Meeting

American Legion Auxiliary Officers Installed Thursday

Following the installation of the officers of the American Legion Auxiliary last Thursday evening, Mrs. Ralph Stewart, president, has announced the names of committeewomen, a list which, combined with the officers should form a splendid staff for the coming year. Mrs. Carrol Marks, first president of the department of California, was installing officer last Thursday night, and a number of officers from other units were present to witness the impressive ceremonies. Dennis Stoval, author of boys' books, Mrs. Bertha M. Elsey, state chairman of constitution and by-laws; Mrs. Sarah Nash of South Pasadena, southern district memberships; Mrs. Minnie Spear Hill of Azusa, president of the Los Angeles Council, all made talks during the evening, while Mrs. F. W. Schlalos gave a pleasing vocal selection.

Mrs. Stewart, who gave a brief summary of the work accomplished, spoke of the pretentious program of the coming year. She then appointed the following committees:

Rehabilitation, Mrs. Victor Hill; hospitalization, Mrs. Blanche Muskrath; child welfare, Mrs. H. C. Reavis; Americanism, Mrs. Arthur Evans; constitution and by-laws, Mrs. Lillian Wheeler; finance, Mrs. Gerald D. French; Camp Fire Girls, Mrs. John Tyree; reception, Mrs. Stella Denison; membership, Mrs. James Farndale; local sickness and relief, Mrs. Henry Olsen; publicity, Mrs. Harold Roberts; liaison officers, Mrs. Thyra Ishoy, Mrs. Muskrath and Mrs. Ralph Stewart; county council delegates, Mrs.

Break Ground For Building Thursday

Congregational Church Will Hold Ceremonies for New Home

Educational Facilities Given Especial Attention In the Plans

Ground will be broken for the new Congregational church at Central and Hermosa avenues on the morning of Thanksgiving Day. A special order for the occasion has been prepared and the entire exercises will be conducted on the new site, providing rain does not prevent.

The general contract has been let to Witt and Schute of Los Angeles, who will begin work at once on the building. When completed this unit will be one of the best adapted educational plants among the churches of this region. It will provide adequate accommodations for a full graded church school, space for the club rooms and a large social hall, 40 x 60 feet, the stage, moving picture booth and a well appointed kitchen.

It is expected that this hall will become one of the most useful centers in Sierra Madre for religious, civic and social gatherings. The need for better accommodations for the church school is so great that this portion will be pressed to completion first.

The main church auditorium will be built to accommodate, with balcony and transepts about 600 people. The transepts will be so arranged that one can be used as a small chapel and the other for one of the departments of the church school.

Mrs. R. R. Moreland was operated upon for acute appendicitis in the Pasadena Hospital at 9 o'clock Monday morning. Mrs. Moreland has not been in robust health for some time, and the attack of appendicitis Sunday night necessitated the operation.

Ralph Stewart, Mrs. Muskrath and Mrs. H. H. Steinberger, alternates Mrs. Thyra Ishoy, Mrs. Fern Gibbs and Mrs. Elva Coffee. Mrs. Stewart, newly elected president, is also first vice president of the Los Angeles County Council, ninth district, and chairman of hospital-county council delegates, Mrs.

American Legion to Sponsor New Year 'Shindig'

Special session of the American Legion to clean up business in connection with the Armistice Day celebration verified the report that the post would clear close to $225 from the affair. Plans are now under way for the big New Year's dance, which will be given Saturday evening, December 31, in the Woman's Club house.

In the past the Woman's Club has sponsored the New Year's Eve dance, but the American Legion has secured the date for this year, and the Woman's club has agreed to assist in any manner possible, so that a splendid community dance may be the result.

Special Low Price Offer For Papers

Press and News Join In a Special Combination With Daily

Unusual value in a newspaper subscription combination is offered for a short time by the Sierra Madre Press, the Sierra Madre News and the Pasadena Morning Sun. Solicitors for the three papers are calling upon Sierra Madre people this week in an effort to increase the local lists of these papers. The opportunity is one which no one not a subscriber can afford to pass up.

The regular price of the Sierra Madre Press (Tuesday) and the Sierra Madre News (Friday) is $3.00 for both papers. The price of the Pasadena Morning Sun is $5.20 per year. For a short time only it will be possible to subscribe for all three papers for $5.25 a year.

The News and Press are delivered by mail carrier on Friday and Tuesday afternoons respectively. Together they give Sierra Madre an excellent local news service. Their scope is the home field entirely, and all the outside daily papers in Southern California combined cannot take their place for anyone who has interests in Sierra Madre.

The Pasadena Morning Sun is growing rapidly in circulation and influence. It offers big value for the money in the field of general news. The combination of general and local news service would be hard to beat.

Orders for the three papers may be given the solicitors, with or without cash payments. So many people have been "stung"

Red Cross Campaign Draws to Close With 300 Names Yet to Go

Thanksgiving Day Closes Drive to Obtain 750 Members for World's 'Greatest Mother'

Sierra Madre Is Short of Quota; Workers to Double Efforts to Obtain More Members

Dr. Wait to Talk At Church Sunday

Dr. Loyal Lincoln Wirt, secretary of the National council for the Prevention of War will speak at the First Congregational church Sunday evening, November 27, at 8:30 o'clock. Dr. Wirt will speak on "The New Chivalry." He made an extended tour of Europe in 1926 and has written and spoken extensively on the situation in Europe regarding the outlook for peace.

While in Southern California he has several other speaking engagements including one before the junior college at Pasadena.

Select Five For C. of C. Directorship

After a delay of a week, during which time the Chamber of Commerce was unable to mail out ballots for the election of five directors for the executive board because of the withdrawal of several names, the list has been made up and the ballots are being mailed to members of the organization. Ballots must be marked and returned to the office of the Chamber of Commerce before November 28, each ballot carrying a vote for five of the ten names submitted.

The list of candidates includes Ray Grant, R. C. Copenhaver, W. E. Pratt, G. I. Farman, George Mesecar, H. E. Allen, Dr. John Woehler, Dr. Gilbert Bovard, Geo. Hapgood and R. G. McLellan.

Immediately following the election of directors and officers for the coming year, the membership campaign will commence, and cards sent out with the primary ballots asking for suggestions as to the work of the chamber have aroused interest in the organization.

At a meeting last night, when candidates were chosen, the directors went on record as favoring the movement to convert the basement of the new city hall into a recreation room for the young men and boys of the community, so that they may have somewhere to spend the evenings.

Plans were also made for a dinner honoring Attorney Robert Mitchell, who is transferring his home and business to Los Angeles. The affair will be given in the forepart of December, but the date has not yet been definitely decided upon. Dinner will be served by the Woman's Club, and the following committee was appointed on arrangements: H. E. Allen, Dean Wm. Carson Shaw, George Morgridge and W. R. Humphries.

by itinerant and irresponsible magazine and periodical solicitors that they hesitate to hand over their cash to anyone they do not know. The solicitors in the present campaign are provided with order blanks which the subscriber may sign and if he prefers to remit upon receipt of statement from the office, that will be just as good as paying cash. The important thing is to place the order while the low combination price is available.

But two days remain until the close of the national drive for membership in the American Red Cross, and to date of publication Sierra Madre had only obtained 495 of the 750 members set by national headquarters as its quota.

Robert Mitchell, who has been conducting the drive in this community, is doubling his efforts to go over the top before the zero hour, and is extending an urgent invitation to every man, woman and child in the town to invest a dollar for the benefit of humanity.

Thanksgiving Day should bring to the leaders of the great movement a thrill of pride in the vast and prosperous country which has subscribed the necessary amount for the carrying on of great relief work, and not a pang of shame and disappointment in the people, many of whom have themselves felt the helping hand of the Red Cross.

While 50 cents of the dollar goes into headquarters for national and international relief work, the remainder stays in the local chapter for work in Sierra Madre, and the call is thus brought home to every member of the community.

Because of the strenuous campaign, there will be no personal solicitation, and every person is urged to stop at the booth, which is centrally located in the patio of the Sierra Madre Hotel.

Subscribers whose names have not already been published in the News and Press will appear on the morning following the close of the drive.

Gardens Assume Prominent Part In Club Affairs

Interest in gardens and gardening in just beginning to stir, and before the middle of February, will be in full motion.

Consequently several departments of the Woman's Club are recognizing the importance of being prepared to meet the flood of eager questions which will be asked.

In connection with the laying out of a garden to the greatest advantage for beauty, Miss Harriett Grant, chairman of the art department is taking her section to visit Griffith Park on December 13. At that time special attention will be paid to the Hollywood entrance, Woodwardia Glenn. While in the city, the members of the class will also visit the California Art Center on Olive Hill.

The Garden Club is also in the process of forming, and will be organized well before the spring epidemic of gardening spreads throughout the club. Mrs. W. J. Lawless, at her federation breakfast Monday morning has recognized the importance of the subject, and has arranged to have two speakers on the topic, Miss Thomasella Graham on home gardening and Mrs. Hugh Pomeroy on "Civic Parks."

Postpone Clinic Until December 8

Since Thursday is Thanksgiving Day, there will be no Well-Baby Clinic this week, and the regular date, two weeks from Thursday, will be observed.

Scoutmasters Arthur Evans and C. F. Ishoy will attend a Scoutmasters' dinner and meeting in the Methodist church at Monrovia this evening. Problems concerning Boy Scout work will be discussed.

THANKSGIVING

For peaceful vales that lie between The hills bathed in unclouded
light;
For harvests with their golden
sheen,
The earth's increase that greets
the sight;
We thank Thee, Giver of every true
And perfect gift that fills our days;
Our vows to Thee we now renew,
And lift the voice in tuneful
praise,
But let not too much thought of self Obscure and hide the ones in need,
In other lands where pride and
pelf
Are placed above the kindly deed.
We thank Thee for the generous
store;
The fruited bough, the golden
grain;
Nor shall the stranger at our door Knock in distress and all in vain.

—Alonso Rice.

PEOPLE OF THIS LAND

Thanksgiving day has become associated with the idea of plenty—an idea that is translated into the concrete on all American tables on that day. Ours is the land of plenty, a fat land, a rich land, and on that day of the year Americans commemorate and celebrate the fact by partaking of good cheer.

The custom comes down to us,
as we know, from a generation of Americans which did not have plenty and had the best of reasons for being thankful and testifying their gratitude when the lean season was past and a fat
one came.

There have been vast changes in our land since the Pilgrims inaugurated this practice which their descendants still follow. The early givers of thanks were thankful for the little that came to them after faithful labor and harsh struggle. We who have much, and have it without hard struggle, also are thankful for what we have, but probably are a trifle too complacent about it and a little too likely to imagine it comes wholly through our deserving. Having much, and regarding what we have chiefly as means of administering to our pleasure and comfort in extra fashion on the day of thanksgiving. We suppose it would really be more appropriate if we should fast on that day.

But all this is to consider only one phase of our plenty, the plenty represented by a full table.
This is a symbol of our material prosperity, and perhaps is not the one we should too fixedly contemplate. What we should do, probably, on this day, is to look about and inquire a little to see whether our plenty exists in other forms. If we find it doesn't, perhaps we shall have occasion some time to make Thanksgiving day
what it originally was, a commemoration of our success in supplying by our own labor and struggle what we have lacked.
Then we would have a little better understanding of the meaning of Thanksgiving.

Most of us will agree, we think,
that America's plenty is not as well rounded out as it should be.
Our fatness is a little too much in our turkey, so to speak; our richness in the material tokens
that are useful only in giving us possession of material things. Our plenty does not extend to our education, our patriotism, our culture, justice, tolerance or public intelligence. In these possessions America is deficient, and for that we have not labored and undergone sacrifice and hardship to get them. Nor can we get them in any other way. We cannot buy them with our wealth as we do turkey; and if we could, we never would have occasion to be thankful for them. Thankfulness implies some humbleness of mind, and that can come only through a sense of sacrifice. Nobody can be truly thankful for anything that has come without personal effort. That's why the British have created such a tremendous social and industrial problem by instituting the dole system. Nobody is thankful for it, least of all those who receive it.

It is sometimes a question, then,
whether an American rich only on the material or turkey side and poor on the spiritual side, can keep up this Thanksgiving institution with successful results. Carlyle tells us there is nothing more hateful than a form or symbol from which all meaning has departed. Simulacrum, he calls it—a thing to become empty.

Thanksgiving day is worth preserving if we can preserve its meaning with it, but we shall never be able to do that if we come to think that plenty is fittingly celebrated by the display of plenty in the form we have it,
and hiding our lacks as things
with which such a day has no concern. If Thanksgiving partakes something of humiliation and humbleness, as our forefathers conceived it, it is the things we lack in our national life and character,
and lack because we have made no
proper effort to possess them,
that should be most in our thoughts that day. It is doubtful whether they are. Our Thanksgiving, we fear, is more a boast than an expression of gratitude.
"An humble and a contrite heart" must precede any genuine expression of thanks. America is not particularly known for its humility.

If we want to preserve this institution in the spirit of its founders we have only to follow their wise example. The things they lacked they acquired by effort.
We do not lack the same things, as it happens. We do not, for example, lack turkey, and we are rather missing the lesson of the Pilgrims if we confine our efforts to acquiring only the things they had need to acquire. We suspect if they had lacked in the same measure the things they lack today they would have directed their efforts toward acquiring those things. But the Pilgrims had the form of plenty that is spirituality,
and their wants were material.
Our case is the direct opposite;
but whereas our ancestors rounded out their plenty, supplying their deficiencies by labor and striving,
we are satisfied to allow ours to remain one-sided, and our Thanksgiving to be a praise of plenty that represents too little of a race's struggle to acquire something it needs much more than the fatness of a Thanksgiving
turkey.—Kansas City Star.

SO MANY REASONS FOR A THANKSGIVING HEART

Now I will utter thanksgiving.
For the berries on the kinnikinic slowly reddened and the intricate leaves of the wild geranium are scarlet filigree.

For the willows in the canyon
are bright bronze and the aspen softly clash their golden cymbals, swaying to the rush of the waters.
Seeds of the clematis are tangled balls of pale silk.

Against gray walls barberry and woodbine show sudden sparks
among their green.
In warm gardens pears drink
the last heavy sweetness of the autumn sun and the bees at noonday seek the late petunias.

Tonight over the darkened mountains the sharp half-loop of the young moon stands upright
in the western sky and red Arcturus burns through the early dusk.

Across the years, annihilating time, a poet speaks of autumn. I am silent, listening for his "walling choir" of small gnats; seeing the "barr'd clouds" that he loved.
Thanksgiving for the rich labors
of summer.

Thanksgiving for this pause of fruition.

Thanksgiving for the brave work ahead and the need to be strong.

I will utter thanksgiving now.—
Clara Morris in Christian Science Monitor.

tion, a city, a village, or a family;
wherever any unfortunates have been broken with the storms of fate the Red Cross comes instantly with supplies to satisfy their need with balm to heal their wounds with comfort to assuage their swelling grief. And the Red Cross is you, its members. You are the angels of mercy acting thru'
your own agency which is given life and power to serve by your membership and support. In and thru' life this great league of tender, pitying, comforting service
you become, in truth, the minister

Fire Flames

By "One of the Boys"

KARGER

The siren blew and Loui raced
across the street,
And shouted "I'm der first one here" as he jumps upon the seat.

He stepped upon the starter and the engine roared aloud—
"Also I'm alone," he said; "I'll go mitout der crowd."

He threw her into second, and he grabbed the steering wheel,
He shot around the corner—
well, just like a picture reel.

He turns her east on Central, and on Baldwin turns her north,
The fire is raging fiercely as he urged old "Snorter" forth.

Up and up and up he goes, with his siren sighing sighs—
By now he's flying high; he feels the big truck rise.

Higher than Mt. Wilson, he keeps sailing thru the space,
"Ah, Ha!" he says, "I'm flying, I'll gif old Lindy chase."

The fire was raging further on;
he gave her all the gas—
"If there were others on behind," he said, "Dey shall not pass!"

The old thing kept on going up,
'twas 'way above the fire;
He lost control of matters then
and kept on going higher.

"Vell, I should go to heaven, den"
he held onto his seat
Thinking up some alibis to whisper to St. Pete.

The gates of gold were now in sight; St. Peter gave a glance
And, learning who the driver was he said "There's not a chance."

"If you are looking for a fire, I'm sure I know you are,
'Til surely send you where it is;
'tis neither long nor far."

Just then the engine failed to work, the whole works to descend—
Ach! du lieber Loui—he was starting to the end.

How fast he was descending, I'm sure he cannot tell,
But he waked in Sierra Madre
as he heard the breakfast
bell.

Interesting News Notes from Sierra Madre Canyon

On Wednesday night Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ishey entertained a group of friends at their home,
"Robin's Inn," on Brookside Lane.
The evening was enjoyably spent in five hundred. At midnight coffee, cake and sandwiches were served to the guests among whom were Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Miller, Mrs. Nora Kieting, Messrs. Harold Sales, John and Edward Kieting, all of Monrovia. On Monday afternoon Mrs. Ishey invited the following guests for an afternoon of cards: Mmes. Robert Cliff, O. R.
Bagby, Henry Peterson, Nora Kieting and Margaret Miller.
After the games a Danish lunch
was served by the hostess.

After a pleasant evening on Thursday, spent at the Eteri Society in Bethany Hall, the Misses Dorothea Cox, Margaret and Dorothy Mootte and Mickie Pannier of Torrance proceeded to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cox on Vista Circle Drive where Miss Dorothea entertained her guests at a slumber party.

The following night was spent at the Mootte residence on Central Avenue where the Misses Marian Wright and Ruth Pittenger of U.C.L.A. joined the party. On Saturday the young folks journeyed to Long Beach to attend the football games in that city.

Mr. and Mrs. George F. House-worth occupied their cottage on Brookside Lane from Thursday
until Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Ward motored to Long Beach on Saturday
with Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Trimble to spend the day with friends in the beach city.

Mr. and Mrs. George Barner of Long Beach enjoyed a brief holiday in their cottage on West
Yucca Trail over the week end.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. W.
Deakin had as guests at their cottage on 582 Woodland Drive, Mrs. Bessie Renner, Miss Elsie Winegar and Bernard O'Toole of Long Beach.

Mrs. E. P. Bradford entertained informally at bridge on Monday evening at her home on

Yucca Trail Path. At midnight delicious refreshments were served to the guests. Those enjoying Mrs. Bradford's hospitality were Mmes. A. J. Dewey, C. L. Hoover and James Heasley.

Mrs. E. A. Anderson was called to Santa Ana on Thursday on account of the illness of her daughter, Mrs. H. B. Paisley. Mrs.
Anderson returned home on Monday at which time Mrs. Paisley's condition was much improved.

ODE TO THE BIRD

The home poets are making merry at the expense of the forlorn Thanksgiving turkey, as in this rhyme, by the Tifton Gazette's columnist:

"The barnyard turkey struts
around, all heedless of his worth per pound.

"It's true he feels a trifle proud,
and often states his thoughts aloud.

"But all the same I rather doubt if it's pounds he thinks about.

"He quickly gobbles what he's fed—nor knows that he will soon be dead.

"The wiser plan of staying slim
has never yet occurred to him.

"He doesn't have the slightest dream of what Thanksgiving time will mean.

"He eats of this, and dines on that, and grows attractive, sleek
and fat.

"In ignorance, he struts around,
quite heedless of his price per pound.

"I ask you, isn't this a shame?
And yet I'll eat him just the same?"—Atlanta Constitution.

Bridle Path Scenes at Upland

Historic Landmark Dedicated to the Horse

In times past the horse was man's most valuable worker, being the premier method of conveyance and hauler of burdens. With the advent of the automobile and the age of machinery, the horse decreased in importance until it seemed that he would shortly become merely a curiosity in place of a necessary factor in everyday life. Nevertheless, in spite of predictions to the contrary, in the few years since the World War, the horse has come back with all his traditions of romance and glory, not so much as a worker, but more as a companion to man, a sharer of his leisure hours and a means of exercise and enjoyment surpassed by none.

It is seldom a week passes in this country that there is not formed a new saddle or riding club, polo club, or some other such organization for the promotion of saddle riding amongst the general public. This brings the demand for trails and bridle paths where enthusiasts may ride, and it is the progressive and up-to-date community which supplies this demand.

Upland, a modern residential community, nestling at the base of the foothills bordering the city of Los Angeles, has as its main thoroughfare, Euclid Avenue Drive. This beautiful boulevard, stretching for miles upon miles, straight as an arrow, is lined on both sides by the best type of California homes. These spacious homes are interspersed by country estates surrounded by orange groves, with here and there a church spire showing above the treetops. Up the center of this noted boulevard runs a broad parkway bordered on both sides by an unending row of magnificent pepper trees, which through years of growth and care have become of unusual size, and their graceful boughs droop over the parkway, forming a natural evergreen canopy.

Years ago this parkway was used as a tramway, the power of locomotion being supplied by mules, and even at this time was considered one of the sights of the Southland, and a visiting spot of tourists. This was later replaced by electrified cars, which operated until the general use of automobiles reduced the patronage to such an extent that the line was abandoned. As soon as the tracks were removed it occurred to a citizen of Upland that the city was at least fifty years ahead of any other community if she desired to place a bridle path where the electric line formerly operated.

As soon as the idea was presented to the City Council the members entered into the plan, and today Upland has the foundation placed for a bridle path destined to become famous within a very short time, for it offers an attraction to the equestrian that will draw the finest element in the country to enjoy their favorite recreation under the brilliant California sunshine and through its balmy moonlit nights.

A committee has been formed, consisting of members of the City Council and Chamber of Commerce, which has made an extensive survey of the bridle paths in neighboring communities. Gathering from here and there the best ideas for shrubbery and flowers for the borders as well as the various types of surfacing for the path, the committee will be equipped to lay out a bridle path that will enhance Upland's charm.

When this path is completed no more beautiful sight will be found the world over. The feathery foliage of the pepper trees, with the brilliant clusters of scarlet berries brightening the green, the varied types of shrubbery intermingled with the colorful California poppy, deep red roses, riders in their vivid costumes, graceful spirited horses cantering along gravel paths, will make a never-to-be-forgotten picture.

However, Euclid avenue bridle path is not all that Upland has to offer the horse lover, for this path connects with the municipal park and the miles of trails skirting Old Baldy and leading through Cucamonga Canyon, San Antonio Canyon and over San Antonio Heights. From spots on these bridle trails magnificent views spread before the rider, with panoramas that stretch from San Bernardino to the Pacific, a distance of nearly a hundred miles.

Already these inducements to ride are having their effect. Rest camps are increasing their stables and groups of riders are gathering, while the homeseeker from the East is laying his plans to build close to these advantages.

Victorious in every war, preeminent in wealth among all the nations of the world, illustrious for wonderful achievements in every field of invention and progress, glorious for universal liberty and all the institutions of a free and enlightened people, America has no claim to greatness so unchallengeable as its record of unselfish service to humanity, and the voluntary enrollment and participation of its millions of citizens,

New Records Are Made On Citrus Crops

In round numbers, $120,000,000 returned to the state for 70,600 carloads of California citrus fruits, largest crop and most money in history, is the information made public in the annual report for the year ending October 31 of general manager E. G. Dezell of the California Fruit Growers Exchange. Cooperative marketing as practiced by the 11,000 growers comprising the Exchange made an unprecedented report.

Figures for the previous record year of 1925-26 are exceeded by almost 22 million dollars in returns and 7000 carloads greater shipments. When freight and refrigeration charges of 4 1/2 million dollars are added, the delivered carload value of this crop reaches the staggering figure of over 161 millions, based on Exchange returns.

"Although the Florida crop suffered severe damage from hurricane and frost, the total supply of oranges and grapefruit in the United States and Canada was approximately 10,000 cars greater than the preceding season, 17,000 cars more than in 1924-25, and 4000 cars in excess of the previous largest supply of 1923-24, when Exchange oranges averaged $1 per box less than 1926-27," says Mr. Dezell.

Advertising Averts Calamity

The increase in the United States orange and grapefruit supply in the last 15 years has been five times as rapid as the gain in population. The satisfactory disposition of this record California orange crop was due largely to their advertising and marketing activities according to the Exchange general manager.

With lemons, demand has not been as well kept in pace with supply, but progress has been made, per capita consumption steadily increased, and foreign lemons gradually displaced by California lemons. Due to the fact that over 90 per cent of lemon production is handled by Exchange shippers, the organization was in position to cope intelligently with the surplus problem and secure fair results on the maximum quantity the markets could take, states the report.

The Exchange alone marketed 50,468 carloads; 38,891 cars of oranges and grapefruit and 11,557 cars of lemons, or a total of over 22 1/2 million boxes. Navel shipments reached 16,810 cars and Valencia 20,854 from Exchange houses.

"Returns to Exchange shippers, estimating value of cars yet unsold, reached $85,295,830, with a delivery value to the wholesale trade of $114,843,724," says the Exchange executive. "This is the largest return to California in the history of the industry."

An average of 1 and 2-3 millions of dollars was returned to its members weekly throughout the year, indicating that the Exchange has well maintained its position of leadership among Pacific Coast industries.

Exchange growers have now invested almost nine million dollars in twenty years of consistent advertising, the wisdom of which was tangibly demonstrated in this season of record production, states the general manager. During these twenty years, gross delivered sales were well over a billion dollars and f. o. b. return to Exchange members $788,346,542.

Sunkist advertising costs growers less than one cent per year per consumer, or 1-4 to 2-5 of a cent per dozen of their fruit. Mr. Dezell estimates that for every family in this country, $9.33 was spent for California citrus, a per capita expenditure of $2.15 for the season.

Indicative of its widespread advertising endeavor, the Exchange used 173,911,848 individual advertisements in 19 national magazines, 169,444,426 newspaper ads on oranges and 123,056,460 on lemons. Literally millions of free bulletins and booklets were distributed.

Europe took 500,000 boxes of Sunkist oranges and grapefruit, shipped from Los Angeles harbor via the Panama Canal. Direct shipments to Hawaii, the Philippines and the Orient amounted to 200,000 boxes. These were tremendous gains and the outlets helpful in disposing of their largest crop, says the report.

Based upon a conservative consumption of 50 boxes per year, 41,614 Sunkist extractors now in operation were responsible for consumption of over two million boxes, or 5,000 cars, visualized by Mr. Dezell as 486,467,660 drinks, which at 10 cents retail means a $48,646,766 fresh fruit drinks business.

The American Red Cross receives no subsidy from the government, but is supported entirely by the money received from membership fees, voluntary contributions and legacies. Now is the time for you to give yourself as a member, and a generous contribution of money to carry on this world-wide ministry to humanity. The hearts of mothers and fathers and little children throughout all the stricken lands will bless you, and your own heart will not fail to know the joy which always comes as a reward for unselfish ministry to others.

Balmy Days as You Ride East

enjoy the delightful trip through the picturesque Southland and romantic Old South

The colorful route east of Southern Pacific's "Sunset Limited" skirts the nation's southern border. Through California's orange lands; across fertile mesas, broad cattle ranges, Phoenix, El Paso, San Antonio, Houston, and on along the placid bayous of Louisiana to New Orleans.

"Sunset Limited," famed round the world, carries you swiftly and comfortably. Its appointments are superb; comparable to those of a fine hotel or club.

From New Orleans you can continue by train to mid-west or eastern points, or by Southern Pacific steamship to New York (meals and berth on the ship included in your fare).

You can go this way and return if you wish over another Southern Pacific route—Golden State Route between Los Angeles, El Paso and Chicago; Overland Route San Francisco, Ogden and Chicago; and Shasta Route to Pacific Northwest and east over northern lines. A choice offered only by Southern Pacific.

The new Sunset Route booklet describes this inviting trip in detail. Ask for a copy and for further particulars. See Apache Trail of Arizona Enroute.

No problem here

"How can we reach customers more often without increasing the number of salesmen's visits and at the same time put PUNCH into our sales message?" Why, the consistent use of the telephone to reach the trade nearby or in distant places—is the answer.

For telephone service is now a proven sales force that combines maximum results with minimum cost in dollars and cents, as well as time. And more—this service extends to over 70,000 cities and towns throughout the United States, to Canada, across the Atlantic to Great Britain and now to Mexico City and other important points in Mexico.

Society and Personal

St. Rita's Party

Garlands of pastel crepe flowers suspended from the lights and from the ceiling, transformed St. Rita's Auditorium into a fairyland Friday evening when Mrs. P. P. Thill entertained the community at a carnival dance for the benefit of the church. While attendance was not large, the evening was a splendid social success, with the carnival spirit very much in evidence.

The orchestra was screened behind a curtain of pastel draperies, and a large butterfly hovered over the center of the stage, which was bordered by flowers, also of crepe paper.

At 10:30 the grand march closed with the distribution of favors, caps cleverly fashioned by Mrs. Thill, and serpentine, which further lent to the gayety of the occasion. Refreshments were also served at midnight.

Smart Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Jones presided over a beautifully appointed dinner party at their home Friday evening. Following dinner, bridge was played.

Will Entertain

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Chapelle of Los Angeles and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Chapelle of Stockton will be Thanksgiving Day guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Lawless. Dinner will be at 2.

Family Dinner is

Being Planned—One of the numerous family dinners on Thanksgiving Day will be the affair planned by Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hill, who will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ashmore and family, Mrs. L. M. Rice, Mr. and Mrs. George Morgridge and family, Mrs. Hortense Hill and W. O. Morgridge.

Entertains Musicians

Miss Ester Silberman was a most gracious hostess recently when she entertained a number of friends at a dinner dance and buffet supper at her home on the corner of Grandview and Mountain Trail. Among the guests were Miss Mona Content, Hollywood pianist of radio KMTR fame, and Miss Ruth Pitts, who possesses a very lovely soprano voice. During the evening Miss Pitts sang two songs, one of them being "Rose Marie" in honor of her hostess.

A color scheme of orchid and yellow was carried out in the table appointments and the house decorations, and the prize for a waltz was an autographed photograph of the hostess. Jan Rubini, director of the orchestra at the Criterion Theatre in Los Angeles, was also among the invited guests, most of whom were interested in music.

House Guest

Miss Ella Shepard Bush has had as her house guests Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Flemming of Long Beach. Saturday morning Miss Bush entertained with a small breakfast in their honor.

Dinner Guests

Dinner, arranged around the festive bird, will be served by Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Hartman at their home Thanksgiving Day to members of their family. The guests will include Dr. and Mrs. G. D. Hartman of Pasadena, Mrs. J. D. Sparks, Miss Louise Pearson and Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Hartman and family.

Mr. and Mrs. F. D. R. Moote and daughters Margaret, Dorothy and Kathleen will spend Thanksgiving Day at the home of Mrs. Moote's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Graves of Van Nuys.

Suprise Birthday

Honoring his wife's birthday anniversary, Mr. Cameron Turner Dickinson presided over a perfectly appointed dinner party at the Tiffin Inn in Monrovia Friday evening. The affair had been planned as a surprise to Mrs. Dickinson, and was as unexpected to the honoree as the host had hoped it might be.

A full course turkey dinner was served at the large table, which had been centered with a low bowl of yellow chrysanthemums, flanked on either side by tall yellow candles, which cast a soft glow over the guests.

Places were marked for Miss Ella Shepard Bush, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fleming of Long Beach, Mrs. S. H. Guilford, Mrs. Alice Belcher, of Rochester, New York, and Miss Mary Agnes Gleim. A feature of the dinner was the large yellow and white birthday cake, with its lighted candles.

Birthday Party

Is Real Surprise—Seldom if ever is a birthday party a real surprise to the honoree, but the affair given Saturday night in honor of Roy Edwards' birthday anniversary took that gentleman entirely off his guard. Workers in the Bethany Sunday School, of which Mr. Edwards is superintendent, gathered at the home of W. J. Ladd and proceeded to the Edwards home in a body.

Mr. Edwards was presented with a Scofield Bible, as a token of the high esteem in which he is held by his co-workers. Mrs. Edwards served cake and ice cream at a late hour, after an evening of games.

Ellen Joy Toll Memorial Benefit

While the bridge-breakfast to be given by Mrs. W. J. Lawless on Monday morning, November 28, is to be a benefit affair for the Ellen Joy Toll Memorial headquarters in Los Angeles, particularly for the silver-service fund, it will also be one of the smartest social functions of the season.

The charming gardens of the Lawless home will form an ideal setting for the 11 o'clock breakfast. Morning speakers will be Miss Thomasella Graham, who will give some interesting hints about gardening and laying out of gardens. Mrs. Hugh Pomeroy, taking the place of her husband on the program, will speak on "Los Angeles Civic Parks."

Reservations for the breakfast have been received and Mrs. Lawless has already filled the tables. There are, however, a number of tables vacant for the afternoon bridge, which will follow breakfast.

If the weather proves unsuitable to the outdoor arrangement the party will be held in the amusement room of the spacious home.

A series of such benefits are being given throughout the district, and Mrs. Lawless has planned Monday's affair in order that the women of Sierra Madre may have an opportunity to assist in the raising of funds.

Miss Clara Sykes was a business visitor in Los Angeles Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodson Jones spent Sunday evening in Los Angeles, where they attended a show.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Lawless had as their guests over the weekend, Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Sawyer of South Pasadena.

Miss Daisy Hawks of Santa Barbara will arrive this evening to spend the holiday with her niece, Mrs. Randolph Wood.

The Misses Allene and Lucille Jones and William E. Jones of Santa Monica were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hill for tea Sunday afternoon.

Dean William Carson Shaw made his last trip to Ventura Sunday to supply the pulpit of the Episcopal church of that city. During the period while a rector was being secured, Dean Shaw made the trip each week end. The new rector will have charge next Sunday.

Cast Sees Play In

Los Angeles—

In order that they may improve their interpretations in every manner possible, members of the cast of "The First Year," the three-act comedy to be given Friday and Saturday in the Woman's club house under the auspices of the Church of the Ascension, witnessed the performance of the same play, as produced at the Playhouse in Los Angeles.

Members of the cast attended the theatre in a body, those in the party being Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Hall Perry, The Rev. and Mrs. Moore, Mrs. James Hawks, Mrs. Randolph Wood, Bessy Droke Glenn, Dave Buchan, Stafford Sadler, R. M. Finlayson and Mr. Collier.

The play gives promise of being a very marked success and rehearsals are moving forward rapidly under the able directorship of Mrs. Allen, who is also taking a character part in the production.

The lines are clever, the play being one of the finest ever written by Frank Craven. Mrs. Randolph Wood, as Grace, the young wife, and Dave Buchan as Tommie, her husband, who are going through the difficult "first year" not entirely unscathed, share stellar honors. Stafford Sadler has been admirably cast for the handsome rival for Grace's affections.

Character parts are entrusted to Mrs. Allen, interpreting the role of Hattie, an impossible colored serving girl, and R. M. Finlayson as the typical American father with an irritating habit of demanding repetitions at the close of each remark. Mrs. James Hawks has been chosen for Grace's mother, conventional and absolutely devoid of understanding of her bachelor brother, Dr. Anderson, played by the Rev. Moore.

Hall Perry, ever a favorite in dramatic productions, and Mrs. Glenn are cast as Mr. and Mrs. Barstow who appear at the psychological moment in the life of the young newlyweds.

Miss Lydia Webster, president of the church guild is arranging for a candy booth at the clubhouse during the nights when the performance will be given.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Hawks are entertaining Mr. Hawks' niece, Miss Dorothy Hawks of San Francisco. Miss Hawks arrived the latter part of last week and will remain until Wednesday, when she will leave in time to return to her home for Thanksgiving.

Browning Circle Is

Entertained—

Sierra Madre

The Browning Reading Circle met Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. S. H. Guilford on Grand View Avenue, with an attendance of 24. Three of Browning's poems were read: "Old Pictures in Florence," with an explanation of Browning's theory of art, by the leader, Miss Mary Agnes Gleim; "The Guardian Angel," and "Fra Filippo Lippi." The readers were Mrs. A. F. Snell, Mrs. Tracy G. Dunning, Mrs. C. A. Bradley of Pasadena and the Rev. Arthur O. Pritchard.

Mrs. Bradway gave an interesting account of her visit to Fano for the purpose of seeing Guerino's painting of "The Guardian Angel." The Rev. A. O. Pritchard's dramatic reading of the poem, "Fra Filippo Lippi," was especially enjoyed by the company present.

After the reading refreshments were served, Mrs. Guilford at the samovar, assisted by Miss Sedgman, Miss Mabel Singer and Miss Anne Stevenson of Van Nuys. Large baskets of chrysanthemums and roses lent charm to the house. Among those present were Mrs. Mary D. Goodfellow, Dr. and Mrs. Gilbert S. Bovard, Miss Ella Shepard Bush, Mrs. Daniel Taylor, Mrs. Myrtle Hill and Mrs. A. F. Snell.

Friendship Club Is

Organized—

A Friendship club has been organized among the younger women of the Congregational church, and as the name would imply the purpose of the club is to stimulate a feeling of friendliness and good will among the young women of the community. The organization meeting was held Thursday in the church parlors, with the following officers elected: President, Maybelle C. Hawkins; vice president, Mrs. R. R. Hartman; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Cecil Kellogg.

Miss Lucille Sparks was appointed chairman of the decorating committee for the Christmas bazaar and booth and Mrs. Donald Ashmore, chairman of the doll booth. The members have charge of the booth for the bazaar on December 2 and will have a large assortment of dolls to offer, dolls of all nations, flapper dolls, baby dolls, French dolls and character dolls.

The next meeting will be Friday at the church parlors at 3 o'clock and a hearty welcome is extended to all young women, especially strangers in the community, to attend the meeting.

Mrs. R. R. Hartman and Mrs. Cecil Kellogg were joint hostesses at the Thursday meeting and delicious refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

St. Rita's to

Have Card Party—

Tuesday evening, November 29, is the date set aside for the card party, sponsored by St. Rita's parish, and given as a benefit to the American Legion. Tables for bridge and 500 will be arranged and refreshments will be served. There will be a door prize, prizes for high score and tables for beginners.

THANKSING BUYS AND AUTO-LICENSES

Client wants money to pay taxes; will give away lot 50x150, for $800; fruit trees, street work and sidewalk in and paid for—near Central Avenue. At this price something to be thankful for.

A two-faced lot in good location. Money can be made at the price. I'm offering this bargain—size 50x200, close to everything and priced at $1500. Small amount of street work against it.

AUTO LICENSES
This year the little office opposite the bank will handle auto licenses under the auspices of the National Auto Club. To receive this service it is not necessary to be a member of the club—just an auto owner is enough.

It was a pleasure last year to handle 385 different license applications and this year we are better prepared to give service, and thru this effort give to our many friends and the public in general just as good service as can be obtained in Los Angeles. This service will save time and trouble. So remember "it's no trouble to get auto plates and answer questions."

Mother's Club to Call Off Session

No meeting of the Mothers' Club will be held Wednesday, the regular meeting day, on account of the approaching holiday, but Wednesday, November 30, has been designated instead. A growing interest has been manifested in the club, which is sponsored by the Congregational church, but which is open to mothers of children under 12 years of age who wish to discuss problems pertaining to the home life of their children.

The home of Mrs. H. W. Glidden, 305 Laurel avenue, was the scene of a nice dinner party Friday evening when Mrs. Glidden entertained a few friends with a delightful informal affair. As those present were all interested in art and artistic things, the lovely pottery dishes of which the hostess is in possession were used on the table, and combined with a centerpiece of bright vegetables, forming a striking ensemble.

Guests were Miss Harriett Grant, Miss Florence Lusted, Miss Steinberger and Mrs. Eva Moore.

When all is said and done, The simple things are best; Cool rain and goodly sun, Hard work and careful rest. When one has reached the end And these have been bestowed, Warm love — earned bread — a friend—

How fair has been the road. To sit a while and dream Before my open door; To watch the sunlight gleam— What sane man asks for more? To see my garden grow, What dearer thing there is, To hear the great winds blow Child laughter — memories— A hand close-clasped in mine, My own green bit of sod, And in my soul, divine, The living grace of God. —Faith Baldwin, in Everybody's Magazine.
